

Meeting rooms

The Society occupies two floors of an impressive Victorian building in Bridewell Place within the City of London's ancient walls and close to St Paul's Cathedral. The facade has been restored to its original Victorian elegance. The rooms have been upgraded and modernised.

Our staff are waiting to offer you all the assistance you need to ensure a successful meeting or presentation.

The large first floor meeting room has double aspect windows and a high ceiling giving the room a light and spacious air. This room can comfortably seat up to 28 people in Boardroom Style.

Alternatively for Theatre Style presentations, the room can easily seat 40 people. The room is fully air conditioned and equipped with a screen, data and overhead projection.

The smaller first floor meeting room is light and bright and can host committee meetings of up to ten people.

Extended can host up to 16 people Board Room/Committee room style and 25 Theatre style.
