I am delighted to announce that this year the British Orthodontic Conference will be returning to one of our favourite venues, Brighton, one of the most colourful and vibrant cities in the UK.

The main programme runs from Friday to Sunday, 23 to 25 September, and contains many highlights, with a wide range of speakers from home and abroad. We are delighted to welcome both academic giants and clinicians who are quite simply among the best in their fields. Alongside the main scientific programme, for the first time, we are running three parallel sessions on separate days for the entire clinical and administrative teams. In another first, we also welcome the Orthodontic Technicians Association who will run their annual conference alongside the BOC.

As well as the comprehensive lecture programme, we will also be running a series of "skill clinics". These hands-on sessions are an evolution of the highly successful master-classes. This year we have increased the number on offer but book early as they are sure to sell out!

The always-important "NHS commissioning session" will form the closing session of the conference on Sunday afternoon and, as ever, there is a pre-conference course which this year will focus on dento-legal matters.

Of course the academic programme is only one element of a successful conference. Meeting up with old friends and colleagues is a real highlight of any BOC. We have a fantastic social programme lined up for you. The Gala reception will be held at the Brighton Dome on Friday 23 September in the form of a bohemian indoor street festival. It will be a night to remember. We also have a re-invented and re-invigorated banquet at the Grand Hotel on Saturday 24 September. So bring your teams along for an evening of glamour, fabulous music, cabaret and a few surprises!

You can book online at www.bos.org.uk or register using the registration form included at the back of this booklet. Don’t forget to take advantage of booking your team using the team registration form.

The Conference Committee and I look forward to welcoming you to Brighton this September.

Dento-legal aspects of orthodontics

Pre-conference course - Thursday 22 September 2016
Brighton Centre, Syndicate Wing

Registration 9.30 a.m. Programme 10.00 a.m. to 4.45 p.m. (timing subject to confirmation)

Over the past 10 years, orthodontics and orthodontists have started to feature more prominently in the case statistics from the protection societies and the GDC, both in the UK and internationally.

This course, run by Dental Protection together with the BDA, is designed to highlight some of the hot topics, address some popular myths, provide an update on recent legal and regulatory changes and provide plenty of practical tips for effective risk management in orthodontics.

It will inform, surprise, illuminate and entertain in equal measure using case studies to illustrate many of the key points.

Amongst the topics covered will be:

- The special mix of dento-legal risks that apply in orthodontics
- Consent – in what respect(s) has the ‘Montgomery’ decision in the UK Supreme Court changed the consent landscape? Why are there specific implications for orthodontics?
- Record keeping
- Informed refusal in the context of orthodontic retention
- The responsibilities and risks of shared and/or multidisciplinary care
- “Short term” orthodontics – what is going wrong and why?
- Teledentistry in ortho – who is accountable?
- Social media – opportunities and pitfalls
- New data security challenges in an electronic age
